

Misplaced anger worries me. We need to ask for the truth, not heads on a platter. Ask your government representatives to condemn this administration

Trump supporters do not deserve to be personally attacked, they need to be shown the truth

People are actively trying to divide us and the United States of America. Divided we are weaker. Don't let it happen.

This is the effect of a large portion of the population being let down by society and swept up in propaganda - caused by a years long concerted disinformation campaign

Hating people makes us all worse. Call out those who are being hateful and remind them that there are better ways of getting a point across

Racism comes from not knowing people who are different from you and being scared because of it

Donald trump was propped up by people hoping to advance their agenda at any cost

Bring him down. The right way. Organize. Impeach. Leave no room for conspiracy.

Don't let this happen again.
